

My Teacher Needs to Know...

For students with dyslexia, ACCOMMODATIONS provide equal access to a full school experience.

Students with dyslexia are in every classroom. The IDA recommends accommodations to be a part of the normal cycle of teaching and testing.

or.dyslexiaida.org

My Name:

My Strengths:

My Challenges:

I want you to know:

Instruction

Tests & Homework

Time & Setting

Alternatives to standard print & lecture

Options for my responses

Extra time & reduced distraction

- Audiobooks
- Text-to-speech/
Speech-to-text
- Verbal & Visual prompts
- Highlighted Text
- Larger font, more space
- Do Not call on me to read aloud (unless I volunteer)
- Audio/video recorded lectures and instructions
- Copy of lesson notes

- Mark answers directly on tests
- Dictate to scribe or device
- Point to response choices; alternative answer sheets
- Keyboard responses
- Calculator
- Online dictionary, spelling and grammar checkers
- Graphic organizer, outline, chart, blank web
- Grade on content, not conventions

- Extra time
- Access to an Alternative Environment
- Distraction-free setting
- Alternative seating
- Individual or small group choices
- Flexible scheduling (several sessions vs. one)
- More frequent breaks

Additional Information:

■ -----

■ -----